

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system for comparing a first document and a second document. First, at least one compare attribute is inserted into either the first document or the second document. Second, the first document is compared with the second document in a manner based on the compare attribute. For example, the compare attribute can include an ignore element attribute, an ignore attribute attribute, and an unordered attribute.

2025 RELEASE UNDER E.O. 14176